JUDGE INCREASES BAIL FOR MAN ACCUSED OF SEXUAL OFFENSES IN KANE, LaSALLE COUNTIES

April 29, 2022

Kane County State's Attorney Jamie Mosser announces that Judge John A. Barsanti has increased bail to $300,000 for a Yorkville man accused of sexual assault.

On March 18, 2022, State's Attorney Mosser charged 22-year-old Reginald B. Terry II with the offense of criminal sexual assault, Class 1 felony, 6 counts.

Prosecutors allege that early on March 18, 2022, Terry sexually assaulted the victim at the victim's residence in Elburn. Elburn police took Terry into custody shortly after he left the residence.

On March 19, 2022, Terry appeared in Kane County bond court. Judge Divya Sarang set Terry's bail at $50,000 and ordered him released from custody on his promise to appear in court.

After Terry's release, information came to light that Terry had a pending case in LaSalle County, charged with the offense of aggravated criminal sexual abuse, Class 2 felony. He was free on $3,500 bond in that case at the time of the alleged March 18 offense in Elburn.

During a remote (Zoom) hearing on April 22, 2022, Judge Barsanti granted a request by Kane County prosecutors to increase Terry's bail. Judge Barsanti ordered Terry to surrender to authorities that day. Despite telling the court that he would surrender that day, Terry failed to do so, prompting Judge Barsanti to issue a warrant for his arrest. Terry surrendered April 28, 2022, at the Kane County Sheriff's Office.

The charges against Terry are not proof of guilt. Terry is presumed innocent and is entitled to a fair trial in which it is the state's burden to prove his guilt beyond a reasonable doubt.

Reginald B. Terry II: Age 22 (d.o.b. 12-13-1999), of the 500 block of Heartland Drive, Yorkville, Illinois. Case No. 2022CF473.
